Dear Mr.,

I am writing to express my interest on position of web developer posted on bongthom.com as it is very interesting. I want to work in this position because it matches to my skill and my passion that I have learned from school. It is my willingness, and I will improve if I work there and help your company better.

Nowadays, I am second year student at Passerelles numeriques Cambodia (PNC), and I am studying web programing skill; meanwhile, I have learned many hard skills such as back-end (Database, php, MySQL) and front-end (html, java Script, java programing, responsive web, bootstrap, Materialize) and mobile development. More importantly, I have some experience about visiting company (Udaya technologies and Artec group). For virtual company one, I worked on creating home page of website, creating application design interface of website, logo and about Virtual Company II I work on creating application that used many languages. I have joined many workshops such as entrepreneurship, communication presentation, time management, and public speaking.

According my interest and my hard skills, it reflects to my behavior. I am a person who is friendly and have a good communication with other people, and I have learned about professional life such as learning process, business concept, problem solving, and researching skills. I believe my responsibility, trust, solidary, respect, demanding approach of working. Additionally, I always try my best, and I like challenging to learn something new, so I think that makes a perfect fit for your company.

With my experience and educational background, I believe I can make significant contribution to develop your company. I expect I will receive an opportunity for this position with my qualification. To prepare an interview, you can contact me at Gmail regularly that any time by (phone number) and (email). Thank you for your consideration.

Best regard,

Sovath Koeun
